

SecuriPlus: Professional support from consultation through to operation.

Our all-round services for your security

In addition to high-quality security solutions, having a capable and experienced partner by your side is essential for holistic and integrated protection. Our experts are on hand to help throughout the entire project and beyond with services that are individually tailored to your needs. Who takes care of maintenance, adjustments or faults? What happens if standards change or the system has to be expanded? This is precisely where uncertainty often arises. With SecuriPlus, our experts take on responsibility for your alarm and security system. From the very beginning and throughout the entire service life. This means you can then focus on your core tasks.

Free consultation

Everything begins with understanding. We analyse your needs, the structural, technical and organisational framework conditions and possible risks. In doing so, we show which solutions are sensible and which standards and guidelines are relevant. Based on this, a rough concept is created that forms the basis for the offer. This offer then undergoes another thorough internal review (dual control principle). The consultation is free of charge and provides clarity before you make a decision.

Planning

After the order is placed, the idea is transformed into a workable protection concept. We monitor and manage the project and create detailed plans, schematic diagrams and cost overviews. We also accompany you on site at construction meetings. In addition, we support you with in-depth engineering services, such as specialist planning concepts or during integral tests. In this way, we ensure that your project is implemented optimally in terms of quantity, quality, time and costs.

Mounting / commissioning

We install the hardware, configure the software and integrate existing systems into your alarm and security system. Commissioning also includes setting up interfaces and connecting to alarm control panels. Each step is coordinated with the initial planning and documented in a comprehensible way.

Inspection / acceptance

Before your alarm and security system is officially handed over, we check it thoroughly. We carry out comprehensive system and alarm tests and, if necessary, organise the acceptance process together with authorities or other parties. You receive complete protocols and flawless documentation to ensure maximum transparency.

Design / BIM

We support you with technical drawings and building information modelling (BIM) for all aspects of your alarm and security system. In doing so, we create plans and ensure legally binding documents. We also support you in all BIM-related matters.

Instruction / training

To ensure that you can operate your alarm and security system safely, we support you with understandable and practical initial instruction as part of the acceptance process. Refresher training is possible at any time. We also offer workshops and in-depth training for comprehensive systems.

Maintenance / support

We ensure the reliable operation of your alarm and security systems throughout Switzerland. During business hours, you benefit from telephone support and comprehensive operational readiness, including the provision of trained specialists, replacement materials, tools, measuring instruments and infrastructure. Thanks to our on-call service throughout Switzerland, we are also there for you around the clock outside business hours.

Whether inspection, maintenance or repairs, we support you throughout the entire service life of your system – on-site or remote. Regular inspections and maintenance in accordance with official guidelines – including software updates – ensure maximum operational reliability. Faults are rectified within defined response and intervention times with the help of technical support via telephone or remote access. Your system remains standards-compliant, reliable and ready for use at all times. We install software upgrades in accordance with the manufacturer's specifications.

Rental / financing

For temporary assignments, we offer flexible rental solutions including the provision, transport, installation, operation and dismantling of mobile alarm and security systems. Individual financing options are also possible via external institutions.

Operation

In addition to your alarm and security system, we also offer modern, cloud-based services. We support you with the professional provision and secure operation of software as a service (SaaS) solutions. Mobile and web-based applications enable access to your systems and their management from one or more locations.
